Book .M66 M454

Milton, Mass. First Congregational Church.

The original book from which this is reproduced is bound in leather, decorated with doves arranged vertically, and bears for a title simply the words MILTON CHURCH RECORDS with pearls and wreaths at intervals. The book measures over all $5 \frac{7}{8}$ inches by $4 \frac{1}{4}$ inches, the pages being $5 \frac{1}{2}$ inches by $3 \frac{7}{8}$ inches; and is rather less than an inch thick.

The first leaf, with quotation from Luke, was apparently pasted in after the book was made up. Then follow six leaves without any marks excepting such as time has made on them. Next comes a page inscribed "Fragments of ch. Records," which gives an explanation of the origin of the book, in a later hand than that of the book itself.

The leaf following begins- "The Covenant Entered into By y Brethren of Milton....." and there are one hundred twenty-six (126) consecutive pages as herein reproduced. The remainder of the book is of a different quality of paper not so much stained by time. On this newer part first comes a leaf unmarked, then three (3) pages of Records of the Church, and the rest of the book, composed of some thirty-five leaves, is blank.

Whereas I am informed that my fall into that dangerous sin of fornication hath come unto y^e knowledge which cannot but be a great trouble of as well as offence to y^e pious minds; I do heartily thank you for y^e great care of and love to me which you have manifested in sending to me to stir me up unto my duty of making con^{fe}sion of my great evil: I was very glad to notice given me from your selves what your expectations were from me. Having been in great trouble of spirit since y^e my fall and I hope you hath not left me wholly to be unconscious of y^e greatness of y^e evil of that sin how much I have thereby dishonoured y^e and brought guilt upon my self and how greatly I have been and am exposed thereby exposed to y^e wrath of y^e and that herein I have acted contrary to y^e light and knowledge which by good education I had received. I have often thought of that chapt. xiv Rom. s. 20 and those following where it said God gave men up to fornication &c: because they liked not to retain God in their minds and became they were disobedient and full of malice and envy &c: It made me think y^e God left me to this sin because of my disobedience to Parents and other sins I have lived in: I desire to lay my self at y^e foot of Jesus Christ as y^e vilest of sinners, having no where els to goe for cleansing and pardon: and beg your prayers unto God for me that I may obtain y^e pardon of y^e and all my sins through y^e blood of x^t and if he would give me true repentance and create in me a new heart and a right spirit and enable me to follow hard after him in y^e way of his appointment that I may obtain his favour and peace with him and grace to serve him in newness of life

Your afflicted and sorrowfull handmaid
